EFS Top-Level Seminar on EU Customs Law: Recent Developments and Outlook

EFS, Erasmus University Rotterdam

EFS, Erasmus University Rotterdam is a partnership between the tax departments of the Erasmus University Rotterdam's Schools of Law and Economics. EFS has been a leading education and research institute in the areas of international and European taxation for 35 years. Its work concentrates on the operation of indirect taxes, covering both VAT and customs duties, and direct taxes, focusing on individual taxation, corporate taxation and source taxation in an international and/or European context. As well as regularly hosting academic symposia, conferences and lectures, EFS offers a wide range of programmes and top-level seminars.

Erasmus University Rotterdam

Erasmus University Rotterdam is a global, top-100 research university, where ambitious students prepare for an excellent career. It is one of the biggest universities in the Netherlands, with a student population of around 29,000 and a research community of around 1,600. On the lively and modern campus, students are constantly encouraged to develop their talents and achieve their ambitions in international classrooms of more than 100 nationalities. Its intensive, career-oriented and research-driven degree programmes are matched by an excellent student life in the dynamic and diverse city of Rotterdam. The university's research is strongly focused on societal impact, specifically on health, wealth, governance and culture.

Initiatives to reform the EU Customs Union, the enactment of ESG-related trade regulations, trade conflicts, changes in customs valuation and Free Trade Agreement developments, along with fresh case law from the Court of Justice of the European Union, are among the numerous elements influencing the constantly evolving landscape of customs practices.

The EFS 3-day top-level seminar on 'EU Customs Law, Recent Developments and Outlook' (in English) will ensure you are fully up-to-date with all the important developments in your field. As well as hearing talks by and participating in discussions with prestigious speakers – Ilona van den Eijnde, Patricio Diaz Gavier, Frank Heijmann, Dr. Anna Jerzewska, Ruben ten Kaate, Raoul Ramautarsing, George Riddell, Prof. Dr. Sandra Rinnert, Dr. Martijn Schippers, Thomas De Visser and Prof. Dr. Walter de Wit – you will also have the opportunity to engage in discussions with your peers.

KEY BENEFITS

- Intensive 3-day programme
- In-depth, interactive sessions
- Max. 25 participants
- Bridging theory and practice
- International networking

EFS is pleased to invite you and other top specialists from customs advisory services, legal practice, the judiciary, government bodies, customs authorities, and academia to the 2026 edition of the Top-Level Seminar on EU Customs Law. This three-day seminar offers a unique opportunity to engage in high-level discussions on the latest developments in EU customs law in an informal and intellectually stimulating setting.

On the first day of the seminar, we will begin with an in-depth exploration of the European Commission's proposal to reform the EU Customs Union. Now that the trilogue negotiations are underway to finalize the text of the EU customs reform, this session will offer valuable insights into the anticipated changes and their implications for all affected stakeholders. Speakers from the Dutch Permanent Representation to the EU, academia, and business will share their perspectives on the reform, including its implications for the VAT Directive.

On the second day of the seminar, the focus will shift to sustainability, customs valuation and origin. The morning sessions will address the EU's latest instruments aimed at promoting sustainable trade, including the Carbon Border

Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), the EU Deforestation Regulation (EUDR), the EU Forced Labor Regulation and rules around the Digital Product Passport (DPP). These developments are reshaping supply chain compliance and will be discussed from both practical and policy perspectives. In the afternoon, the focus will shift to customs valuation and origin. We will explore key updates in customs valuation, including the latest instruments issued by the Technical Committee on Customs Valuation of the World Customs Organization—such as Commentary 27.1, Case Studies 14.3 and 14.4, and Explanatory Note 7.1. These developments offer important clarifications and practical guidance for valuation in complex scenarios. We will then delve into the growing significance of non-preferential origin in a world increasingly shaped by trade tensions and shifting geopolitical alliances. The session will also address the practical implications of self-certification under Free Trade Agreements, highlighting both opportunities and compliance challenges. A representative from OLAF will elaborate on the role the European Anti-Fraud Office plays in monitoring and enforcing origin-related rules within this evolving landscape.

On the third and last day of the seminar, we will explore the evolving role of the customs function in a rapidly changing global environment. This session will highlight the strategic importance of trade automation and how businesses and customs authorities are adapting to digital transformation. The seminar will conclude with a comprehensive review of recent case law from the Court of Justice of the European Union, covering customs, excise, and import VAT matters.

All sessions are designed to offer ample opportunity for in-depth discussions on each topic covered. As we wrap up the seminar, we'll take time to collectively reflect on the matters discussed and draw broad conclusions.

If you are looking to update and expand your highly specialized knowledge and to network with other leading professionals, sign up now for the EFS top-level seminar on 'EU Customs Law: Recent Developments and Outlook' to be held at the Erasmus University Rotterdam on 10 – 12 June 2026.

Rotterdam

With a population of over 600,000, Rotterdam is the second largest city in the Netherlands and the centre of the Rotterdam–The Hague metropolitan area. With residents of over 170 different nationalities, Rotterdam is a truly multicultural city. From Brazilian, Polish and Iranian restaurants to African and Asian supermarkets: you'll find it all in Rotterdam.

Rotterdam is famous for having the largest port in Europe, while the River Maas also runs through the 'skyscraper city'. And behind the modern skyline, with its innovative and avant garde architecture, you'll find an atmospheric and historic city centre.

The city's international character is also reflected in its cultural activities, including the international art exhibited at the Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen (currently closed for refurbishment) and the Kunsthal. Depot Boijmans Van Beuningen has opened in September 2021 and is the first art storage facility in the world that offers access to a museum's complete collection. Every January you can watch movies from all around the world during the International Film Festival, while in summer you can enjoy the Summer Carnival and the North Sea Jazz festival.
